

LOMAKA GALLERY

London

Khadija Choudhury

Squeeze Berry [Details], 2017

Oil and spray paint on canvas, 180x180cm

Khadija Choudhury graduated from the University of Brighton with Honours in Fine Art Painting in 2017. Her paintings are an outcome of unrestricted processes, embracing energy and expressing personal experiences from an intimate moment in time. Through which the artist is playful with her movements in each piece, the composition explores a visual perspective of freedom, love, obsession, loss and loneliness into a conformed space. As an exploration of personal subjectivities and experiences, Choudhury's work serves to portray more than simply automatic drawings and paintings. Fusing energetic movement with space for contemplation and stillness to connect with the fragility of peace and mindfulness, creating stability from something familiar.

Education

2017 – BA (Hons) Fine Art Painting, Brighton University, U.K.

2013 – Foundation Diploma of Art and Design, Weston College, Bristol

Exhibitions

2017 – 'Brighton Graduate Show,' Grand Parade Building, Brighton

2017 – 'Fashioning the frame,' Edward street gallery, Brighton

2016 – 'Stretch' Grand Parade, Brighton

2014 – 'Foundation,' Weston College Gallery. Bristol

2013 – 'A2,'Paintworks, Bristol

Publications

2017 – BFAP, Fine Art: Exhibition Catalogue, Graduate show, Brighton.